MILITIA ARRIVE AT CALUMET

Encamp in the Copper Region Where Trouble Is Brewing

VERY LITTLE TROUBLE

Had been Reported Today in the Strike Zone—Soldiers are Keeping a Close Watch on the Situation.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Calumet, Mich., July 26—Reinforcements of state troops began arriving in Calumet today at daybreak. Companies from Big Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon, comprising the first battalion of the second regiment reached the copper region early and express trains carrying troops from the lower peninsula will arrive at intervals of a few hours.

This morning the troops from the lower sections of the state met a drizzle of rain mixed with Lake Superior fog which kept them huddled in "pup" tents and swathed in overcoats and blankets.

The weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the strikers, however the first delegation of marchers appearing in Calumet from locations north of here before the troops had finished breakfast. There were no early morning reports of trouble.

This was to have been payday at the Baltic Mine on the South range, the scheduled disbursements including pay for last month and settlements for the twenty days of July preceding the strike. The company clerks, however, were not at their posts, having been driven away from the mine offices late yesterday.

Union officials were plainly disappointed at the tenor of Governor Ferris's reply to their proposal of yesterday that he intervene to settle the strike. They asserted that the governor had failed to give the men's side of the controversy consideration equal to that accorded the companies, arguing that no request for troops had come from the union men and that no act of theirs justified the presence of the militia.

Gen M L Abbey of Kalamazoo, commander of the entire guard of the state, arrived today but will not take command until the regiments are completed by later arrivals. Meanwhile Colonel John Butcher of Cheboygan holds sway over nine companies on the ground.

MARSHAL HAS REVOLVER DUEL
WITH A THIEF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chardon, O., July 26.—A revolver battle took place early this morning between a burglar and Deputy Marshal E. L. Watrous. Several shots were exchanged. Watrous discovered the thief under the stairway in the rear of the block in which R. L. Boswick's hardware store is located. A hand to hand fight followed. The stranger finally broke away and ran. Watrous fired and the thief fled. The firing continued until the thief got out of range and disappeared. It was discovered that he had robbed Boswick's store of $150 cash and a quantity of cutlery.

LAMAR TOO BUSY TO LEAVE CITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 26.—David Lamar, the "Wolf of Wall Street," who is under indictment in New York on two counts for impersonating public officials, refused today to take the indictment seriously and indicated that he had no immediate intention of returning to New York. Mr. Lamar said he was so extremely "busy" here that he could not afford to leave at the present time. With his counsel, Henry E. David, he is awaiting copies of the true bills found against him by the federal grand jury before making his plans.

AGED WOMAN IS
SUMMIT STATION

Mrs. John Cashdollar, aged 84 years, residing at Summit Station, had her right leg seriously burned Friday when she fell against the stove at which she was cooking. Her condition is regarded as very serious by Dr. C. H. Bell, who is in attendance.

Because of her advanced age, her daughter at Cleveland has been telegraphed and it is expected that she will arrive in the city some this Saturday.

Her husband, John Cashdollar, 85 years of age, is seriously ill and is now confined to his bed most of the time. The couple have been married for sixty years and are one of the oldest married couples in the state.

BOY CHARGED WITH SHOOTING
HIS PLAYMATE

Steve Wargo, aged 15, is in the toils and Paul Riley, a neighbor's son who lives at 115 Valandingham street, is confined at home with a bullet hole in his ankle. Paul declares Steve wielded the gun—a Winchester rifle—when boys in swimming refused to budge at his command.

Juvenile Officer John Dwyer brought Steve into court Saturday, also Steve's rifle. Judge Hunter took the case under consideration and the gun was assigned to the county arsenal under lock and key.

Ruins of Wagon and Paint Shop in Sing Sing Prison Believed to Have Been Fired by Convicts

A drastic investigation which may prove that the big fire in Sing Sing prison the other day was set by convicts as an indirect result of the political war between Charles F. Murphy, boss of Tammany, and Governor William Sulzer, is to be made. The governor's friends do not accuse the Tammany men or their friends of starting the fire. But Superintendent of Prisons John B. Riley said because

Acting State Controller Michael Walsh had refused to supply funds to transport 125 prisoners from Sing Sing to Auburn Prison, and sixty to Great Meadow, men who were on the verge of mutiny remained at Sing Sing. "One of this number set the fire," said Mr. Riley. "This I am informed by Warden Clancy, who ferreted out the culprit."

"It is characteristic of prisoners to protest against removal from Sing Sing, even though it means a better ment of their condition.

"In this instance the removal of the 185 men will make it unnecessary to place two men in a cell at Sing Sing, but the men to be removed want to remain at that place because it is more handy for friends from New York City who visit them."

The wagon and paint shop was one of the buildings burned. The total loss was something like $200,000, the state authorities say.

Enthusiastic Meeting of the Licking
County Central Committee Held
In Convention Room of Court House

Licking county Democracy is enthusiastic. With the slogan "support the governor," thirty Democratic county central committee members assembled in the court house convention room Saturday afternoon at the call of Chairman James J. Hill of Johnston, voiced their determination to line up the most desirable township available for township officers to be selected in the coming election.

Petition blanks were distributed and members of the committee who were informed of the committee operation of the law governing primaries this year.

Every committeeman was pledged to exert his energy toward obtaining the very best candidates to be found for township offices. The new ruling of the secretary of state eliminating primaries throughout the state, except in cities of 2000 or more population, was made clear to the committeemen.

It was explained by Chairman Hill that in many instances it will be necessary for the committeemen to nominate their desirable candidate by themselves circulating his position, where often good men would not take the trouble to circulate their own petitions, thereby permitting weak candidates to enter the field.

Jud Reese of the county board of election supervisors told committeemen that with the exception of assessor and members of the board of education, all other township officers may be nominated by a single petition. Among the required twenty-five names. In cases of assessor and school board candidates, each must have his individual petition.

Emphasis was given the ruling that all petitions must be filed on or before September 5, which is sixty days prior to the general election.

C. L. V. Holtz addressed the committee briefly, warning members to use every influence against unscrupulous circulators of referendum petitions, "especially when the signatures are paid for," he added, "and for political effect, and I don't know of any being circulated any other way."

On the question of township trustees, there seems to be a question as to the manner of selecting a trustee to fill a vacancy which might be caused by failure to nominate. It appears to be the understanding that the oldest justice of the peace in the township may make an appointment to fill the vacancy. This question will be determined, however, should such a condition arise.

Editor J. H. Newton of the Advocate spoke of recent personal interviews with the secretary of state relative to the rules for nominating by petition, and instructions issued on this point were read by Chairman Hill.

Mr. Ernest Cornell, secretary to Congressman Ashbrook, gave a short talk the substance of which was that township nominations should be seriously regarded as the foundation unit on which a substantial county, state and national organization must rest.

Before conclusion of the meeting Secretary R. E. McGonagle was authorized by resolution to send out petition blanks to committeemen who were absent from the meeting, with instructions to use every effort to obtain suitable township candidates and file petitions within the prescribed time.

INJURED WHEN
TRAINS COLLIDE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Macon, Ga., July 26.—Two fast passenger trains on the Southern railroad collided head-on, at Holton, eight miles north of Macon early today. A negro porter was killed and a number of passengers are reported injured.

ALL NIGHT BATTLE WITH THE FLAMES
IN SASKATCHEWAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Brook, Sask., July 26.—After an all-night battle with the flames, firemen today succeeded in saving one-half of the town. The loss of life cannot be determined as yet, as hundreds of farmers, attending the annual fair here, returned home during the confusion, leaving members of their families behind. It is thought, however, that three farmers lost their lives in attempts to rescue horses from burning livery stables, where many animals lost their lives.

The loss to merchants and the government, because of the burning of the postoffice, will be $225,000.

Taxicab Crashed
Through Walls and Entered Bedroom

Akron, July 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanley of this city were awakened from their sleep last night when a taxicab crashed through the walls of their home and entered the bedroom. The driver was seriously injured and a passenger received minor bruises. The machine was wrecked.

TEAMSTERS' STRIKE

UNCHANGED.
Cincinnati, July 26.—The situation in the teamsters' strike remained unchanged today. Both sides apparently holding firm. A report was published to the effect that efforts would be made to defeat the strike by importing strike-breakers, but a leading member of the federation of team owners denied this.

MOTHER'S PENSIONS WERE GRANTED BY SUPERIOR JUDGE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Seattle, Wash., July 26.—Ten women were granted pensions yesterday by Superior Judge Frater, when he heard the first batch of cases under the mother's pension law enacted by the legislature last winter. Fifteen cases were heard, three being denied and two referred to further investigation. The largest pension was for $27.50 a month to a destitute widow with seven children. The amounts granted in the other cases ranged from $17 a month to $30 a month, according to the circumstances of the petitioners.

The investigator of the pension department reported to the court 300 applications for mothers' pensions, 150 of which were found to come within the provisions of the law.

APARTMENT HOUSE
FAMILIES FLEE IN NIGHT CLOTHES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, July 26.—Forty families in the Majestic apartment house were aroused by fire early this morning and many persons fled from the building in their night clothes. More than a hundred window awnings at the front of the five-story building were destroyed.

The fire broke out in an awning on the lower floor and shot upward. It is thought that the flames started from a lighted match thrown from an upper window.

TO INVESTIGATE
EXPENDITURE OF APPROPRIATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, July 26.—Auditor of State Donahy today detailed Examiner John A. Bliss to investigate the expenditure of money by the Perry Victory Centennial commission at Put-in-Bay. This action, according to Mr. Donahy, was decided upon following a request that an investigation be made by W. P. Huntington, secretary general of the commission.

Examiner Bliss will conduct the investigation from the Cleveland office of the commission, Mr. Donahy said.

Approximately $38,000 will be shown to have been spent by the commission, according to the belief expressed by Mr. Donahy. Much of this money, he thinks, was for taxicab hire, banquets, railroad trips and publicity which were unnecessary extravaganzas.

"It is the purpose to have a systematic investigation made," said Mr. Donahy, "to show just how the money was spent."

Mr. Donahy said he did not believe there was anything illegal in the transactions but that the money was spent lavishly.

FLEW ACROSS ALPS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Basel, Switzerland, July 26.—Another flight across the Alps was made today by the French aviator, Oscar Bider. He flew from Milan to this city, a distance of about 160 miles in three hours and forty-five minutes. He replenished his fuel at Liestal to replenish his fuel. The greatest height attained was 10,000 feet.

Trainmen and Railway
Managers on Verge of Arbitration Agreement

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 26.—The eastern railroads today withdrew their demand that their grievances against the employees be considered by the federal board appointed to arbitrate the demand for better wages and working conditions made by conductors and trainmen.

This concession apparently removed the only remaining obstacle to arbitrate an averted strike. With this issue disposed of, the railroad managers and the labor leaders expected to reach a speedy agreement upon the text of the questions to be laid before the board of arbitration.

In a statement explaining their position the managers said they have made this concession because they felt it was their duty to protect the traveling public.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, July 26.—A series of rapid fire conferences between the federal mediators and the railroad managers and the conductors and trainmen that ended early today brought the question of arbitrators between the railroads and employees to the verge of a settlement.

The conferees got only a few hours sleep and when they resumed work this morning it was hoped that before the end of the day both sides would agree upon what matters shall be laid before the board of arbitration for a final decision.

Some of the railroad men got out of bed last night to answer a call from the mediators and although it was nearly midnight when this meeting was

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, July 26.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson on his arrival here for conference on the Mexican situation with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, announced he had prepared a memorandum suggesting the policy the American government should pursue. While he had submitted his views to the president and Mr. Bryan, the ambassador criticized as impracticable proposals for mediation by an American commission.

Ambassador Wilson said he expected to return to Mexico City by the steamer sailing next Thursday from New York. As to his conference with the officials here, he understood, he added, that he merely was to transmit information on the situation and resented the suggestion frequently made in the newspapers that he would be called to account for his personal acts.

"I recognize that the President and Secretary have a right, however," he said, "to question me about anything."

The ambassador described his treatment by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan hitherto as courteous in every respect except one—the sending of special agents to investigate conditions in Mexico. He severely criticized Wm. Bayard Hale and Reginald Delvalle, whom he declared were acting for the administration there.

"I don't think Mr. Delvalle should have been given this state department code," said the ambassador. "I know he had it because he went to the secretary of our legation in Havana to get help in deciphering it. Indeed, I believe the senate committee might investigate the distribution of the state department code to private individuals."

The ambassador said he had every disposition to carry out the wishes of the President and Secretary Bryan. Mediation, however, he looked upon as impossible because the Mexican federal government would not entertain such a suggestion.

"I regard mediation," he added, "as venturing on dangerous seas."

Mr. Wilson was vehement in his criticism of the constitutionalists and the Madero family. "The Madero family," said the ambassador, "has maintained a bad bureau in Washington to poison the public mind. As to the rebels (Continued on Page 8, Col. 3.)"

Woman Shot Above Right Eye and Body Thrown In Shallow Water of Lake

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, July 26.—The police were confronted with another murder mystery in the finding last night of the body of a woman partly immersed in the shallow water along the lake shore in Rogers Park. She had not been dead longer than three hours, an undertaker asserted. A bullet hole over the right eye and two abrasions of the scalp are proof of the woman's violent death.

The victim could not have held a revolver in a position which would send the bullet on the downward course it took, the police say. On the beach the officers found an automatic revolver containing one empty cartridge. They came across two furrows in the sand which were traced to an alley about fifty feet away where there were several footprints made by a man's shoe and an umbrella bearing the marks of a Milwaukee manufacturer. It is thought the manufacturer was in the alley, dragged into the few feet of the water and the waves washed the body shoreward again.

The body is that of a woman about 30 years of age, and who weighed about 125 pounds. The hair and eyes are brown. She wore a black serge skirt, pink flowered washable waist, with double front, black stockings, black shoes and a shawl. The police believe she was a domestic.

Millionaire Corporations
Putting Up Money to Buy
Signers to Their Petitions

Inasmuch as the Equity association of Cleveland, O., is financing the scheme, through referendum petitions to bring the Workmen's Compulsory Compensation act, the Warnes and Kilpatrick taxation measures, to a vote of the people, and inasmuch as said association is spending large sums of money in this state-wide canvass for signatures to their petitions to protect the people against the alleged oppression of these laws, it would seem proper to know who their benefactors are. The executive committee of said association, among others, consists of the following well known corporations, viz. M. A. Hanna & Co., the American Shipbuilding Co. and the Cambridge Colliers Co. Now these great interests, together with the Liability Insurance companies, are those to whom the workingmen and taxpayers are indebted for such unselfish devotion to the public welfare. Fortunately both the workingmen and a great majority of our manufacturers have studied the provisions of our present Workmen's Compensation act and do not need any advice. The former know that in case of death their families will receive a fair compensation to assist them in the unequal battle of life by being deprived of the assistance of fathers and husbands; the latter are more than pleased as every day is demonstrating that their premiums paid to the state are less than heretofore paid to the Liability Insurance companies and with the su-premise satisfaction that the premiums paid out go into the purses of widows and orphans rather than the coffers of said insurance companies. And the Green Workmen's Compulsory Compensation act is now generally considered to be even better than our present law, as note how the people are rallying to its defense against forgers and perjurers. Now will the taxpayers be equally wise as to the provisions of the two taxation measures which our benefactors are so anxious to submit to a vote of the people and which they say will, if not defeated, kill the Smith one per cent tax law? Read the Kilpatrick law so far as it relates to tax levy limitations and judge for yourselves if their assertions in this instance are not as untruthful and unreliable as their prophecies of dire calamity to the manufacturers if they insured with the state rather than the Liability Insurance companies.

MULTI-MILLIONAIRES
SO EXERCISED?

Brush away all the dust that has been raised to conceal the identity of those fighting the Warnes State Tax Commission bill and one will find the Ohio Tax Dodgers' Association backing the proposed referendum on that law.

In this organizations are multi-millionaires, the possessors of immense fortunes in personal property that has escaped taxation for years, while the farmers and home owners were forced to pay their full share of taxes.

Naturally such tax dodgers don't want the taxing machinery of the state made more efficient. And that is just why the Warnes bill was passed. It is an act in the interest of the farmers, home owners and the owners of other intangible property. It was designed to reduce the taxes of the owners of such property by getting on the duplicate intangible property that has not been taxed. The elected assessors did not get it, because the rich property owners were pleased best when they failed to do their work properly. The appointed assessors will have to get this personal property out of hiding to hold their jobs and thus make taxes lower for the masses.

CLEARANCE SALES
REGULAR FEATURE OF NEWARK TRADE

Clearance sales of dry goods, clothing, and other necessities are a regular feature of trade. Most merchants prefer to make heavy sacrifices rather than carry goods over a year.

At this time the advertising columns of this newspaper are a trade report of the exceptional conditions that make these clearance sales necessary. By careful study of the advertising columns in late July and August, you can always find how to make a big dent in the cost of living.

The majority of people understand this well enough. Before reading what Congress is doing to the tariff, they turn to see what their favorite merchant is doing to his stock. No matter how fine type he puts his appeal into, it affects their interests so intimately that his message receives careful thought.

If a merchant fails to give the public any news from his store at these times, it is regarded as a case of "Nothing doing." It gives the impression that he is carrying stock over another season.

Paris' underground electric railroads are now carrying more than 100,000,000 passengers a year.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

Consolation.

The heat that makes us gasp and shrivel and hand out comments most unkind, keeps corn and beans alive; around in sweat a fellow shoves, forgetting that the Hubbard squashes need heat to make them thrive. We all rear up and rant together, and roast the olives, blanketed, drenched, and storm, and wind like lions; and yet this heat, which seldom varies, is helpful to the huckleberries and also to the prairie. In arctic realms sun rays don't sizzle, so agriculture is a fizzle, there is no corn or wheat; the natives with the sun were blazing, for they are fired of always raising cheap polar bears and sleds. Then let us while profusely sweating, be in no danger of forgetting what's needed by the peas, the egg plant, with heat of amber, the onion and the proud cucumber, and other things like these. And when hot weather makes us suffer, don't be a mournful whining duffer—it's too-lishness to chafe; just take the issue bravely, stoutly, and dance and sing, and say devoutly, "Thank God, the prune crop's safe!"

because that may be a fashionable hour in New York.

Mark Twain won a great audience by those boisterous qualities of exaggerated humor which are typically American. His remark in speaking of the peace given by religious faith, that he had been often impressed by the confidence the Christian felt when he held four aces, was an aphorism that could never be spoken by an Englishman, a German, or a Frenchman. You find its parallel in an imitative degree, in every newspaper.

Twenty years ago Mark Twain was regarded by the literary critics as one who appealed merely to the desire for temporary amusement. His books were about like the comic paper that you buy to read on the train, but never take home. The pilgrimage of literary notables that will be heading for Hannibal will show how the final estimate of Mr. Clemens has changed.

Wisdom from Washington

Washington, July 26.—[Special.]—Intervention in the affairs of Mexico may be near at hand. A condition has arisen which may make it impossible to further avoid sending troops into Mexico, not only to protect American lives and property, to redress wrongs inflicted upon American citizens, but also to restore peace to that distracted nation.

And curious as it may seem, no one really wants to intervene. Even army men, who might seem elated at the possibility of active service, deprecate warfare in Mexico and with the Mexicans. Outside of a few people along the border it would seem that everybody would like to avoid anything like a "muss" in Mexico, for that is about what it will be if troops are sent across the border.

Similar to Cuba. We went to war with Spain, said the war advocates of that time, "because we could not stand such a state of affairs at our doors as were maintained in Cuba." Almost a similar state of affairs exists in Mexico, made somewhat worse because Americans and their property are involved in the slaughter and destruction. The lack of force which every man has displayed who has been in charge of Mexican affairs invites revolution.

Every marauder who can raise a few men and gather a few rifles becomes a "general" in command of an "army," which proposes to overthrow whatever government happens to be in power. The conditions are such as to make intervention probable.

President McKinley did not want war with Spain. President Taft would not have war with Mexico. President Wilson has been doing all he could to prevent hostilities.

SCORE ONE FOR MULHALL.

(New York World.)

The first victim at the polls of Col. Mulhall's letter-bag is S. Wood McClave of New Jersey. For some reason, possibly because the Republicans of the Sixth District do not read the newspapers, he was nominated to fill a Congressional vacancy, and the better-informed voters of Bergen, Warren and Sussex did the rest. The seat in the House will be occupied by a Democrat who never had any relations with the man whom the National Association of Manufacturers hired to run the Government in its interest.

Mr. McClave suffers because in 1910 the lobby favored him as a candidate against William Hughes who had the honor of appearing on the Manufacturers' blacklist. McClave had no opportunity to do anything for his friends, because he was not elected. If in a district normally Republican a Democrat can beat a man of whom the lobby only had hopes, what tidal wave will overwhelm those in Congress who actually entered into a degrading service?

If that arbitration board succeeds in settling the railroad firemen's trouble, it need not be out of a job long in this country.

It doesn't make a fireman mad to tell him to go to blazes.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Glucose For Wounds. For either moist or dry dressings for wounds glucose may be used. For the former, the surface of the wound is first thoroughly cleaned with sterilized cotton swabs moistened with a 48 solution of glucose in water. This forms an isotonic saccharine "serum." It is then covered with dressing soaked in the solution, which is secured in the usual manner with sterile wool and bandages.

For the dry dressing powdered glucose is dusted over the surface of the wound. In some few cases this is painful, although the moist dressings occasion no pain. The dressings are renewed every day for infected wounds and thoroughly cleansed at each dressing. When nearly disinfected the dressing is changed only on alternate days, and then less frequently as healing progresses. Glucose appears to favor granulation and cicatrization.

Carter's Blood Kin. Congressman Carter of Oklahoma is not only proud of the aboriginal blood which flows in his veins, but he also is proud of his Indian kinfolks who come to see him from Oklahoma. Whether Choctaws or Chickasaws, they are welcome, and Carter shows them the sights of the capitol.

Former Republican. The appointment of Charles S. Hartman of Montana to be minister to Ecuador recalls that when he came to congress many years ago he was a Republican. He was one of the Republicans who marched out of the Republican convention in 1896 when the gold plank was adopted. Hartman, like most of the others, has become prominent in the Democratic party since that time. Teller and Shafroth of Colorado, Dubois of Idaho and Towne of Minnesota were among the bolters.

The Human Procession

Three distinguished men of letters will be the recipients of birthday congratulations today. In the order of their wealth they are as follows:

John Dustin Archbold, author of "Letters to My Congressman, Senators and Judges," one of the literary sensations of the last few years, was born in Leesburg, O., sixty-five years ago today. Mr. Archbold's literary efforts are remarkable for their succinctness, terseness and clarity of style. "Enclosed find check" is an example of his direct and forceful phraseology.

George Barr McCutcheon, who was born in Dublin fifty-seven years ago today, hasn't as much money as Mr. Archbold, but he has accumulated considerable pelf for a Socialist and a genius. "Among the most celebrated people in Europe I am not only a man of genius, but I make money out of it," says Mr. Shaw, with that becoming modesty for which he has long been noted.

George Barr McCutcheon, who was born on a farm in Tippecanoe county, Ind., forty-seven years ago today, hasn't made much, if any, above a million dollars out of his novels, and so is hardly worth mentioning. He always begins his novels on the twenty-sixth day of a month, partly because he was born on the twenty-sixth, partly because twice thirteen is twenty-six, and partly to prove that he isn't in the least bit superstitious. There is a remarkable similarity in the careers of Mr. McCutcheon and his Hoosier literary contemporary, George Ade. Both were christened in 1866, both were educated in Purdue University, and both began their literary labors on the newspapers of Lafayette, Ind. Mr. McCutcheon was a reporter on the Lafayette Journal and city editor of the Lafayette Courier before he wrote "Granmark" and woke up to find himself famous.

Returning to the discussion of Mr. Shaw, as everybody does sooner or later—one wonders how much greater than Shakespeare he would have been if he had permitted himself to eat meat. "G. B. S." has been a vegetarian since childhood, his diet consisting of fruits, nuts, cereals and vegetables. It is to this regimen that he attributes his admittedly vigorous intellectual powers.

United States Senator James K. Vardaman of Mississippi, with the "Great White Leader" of the Amalgamated Union of Negro Workers, the only union with a twenty-four hour day, passes his fifty-second milestone today. The picturesque and long-haired statesman was born in Texas, but went to Mississippi, the home of his fathers, at the age of seven. He was a lawyer and the editor of country newspapers before he became politically prominent as "Our Great White Leader." He was elected governor of Mississippi on a platform demanding the repeal of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the United States Constitution, giving the right of suffrage to negroes. "The negro must be content with a distinctly recognized inferior position in the social economy of the South," declared Vardaman. "Education is spoiling the negro race, making them more criminal every day." Despite this attitude, Vardaman prevented more lynchings in Mississippi than any other governor, and this won for him a considerable following among the colored voters of the South.

The little girls arrived at the Taylor farm in the Swisher and Taylor automobiles at 2 o'clock and immediately explored the farm after which, games were played on the lawn. The principal game of the afternoon was the guessing game in which Miss Martha Grace Miller was the winner and received a very fancy pocket book as a prize.

Four Young Stenographers Whom President Wilson Took From His Headquarters in Trenton to Employment in Washington

President Wilson has shown his appreciation of hard and competent work in the cases of four young stenographers, all Jerseymen, who were employed in his campaign headquarters in Trenton. They were taken to Washington with him and he is now trying to find places for the last of them.

First among them is Charles Swem, who is the president's private stenographer. Swem is wonderfully accurate and speedy. He writes 269 words a minute, nine less than the world's record. He followed the candidate for president all over the United States and turned out his speeches for the newspaper men. Fury has been placed in the office of the recorder of deeds in the District of Columbia. Warren Johnston of Trenton is private secretary to the President's private secretary, Joseph F. Tumulty. Claffy is to become private secretary to Oliver P. Newman, one of the commissioners of the District of Columbia.

GET SIXTY BARREL WELL IN HOPEWELL NEAR LICKING LINE

Great excitement in Hopewell township existed Thursday because of a new 60-barrel oil well being drilled in by the Columbus Gas and Fuel Co., on the James Winegarner farm, near the Licking-Muskingum county border. The territory has not been developed much and cannot be regarded as wildcat land, as eight or ten small pumpers have been secured during the past summer.

The Columbus company has several hundred acres under lease in that territory and several more wells will be started immediately, as a result of Thursday's strike.

Coming Event

Buckeye Lake Chautauqua opens August 3 for 14 days.

After August 1 all fruits and vegetables must be sold in Newark by weight, instead of by measure.

Professor Simp.

At present there are 6000 tailors in Vienna. But economic experts consider it a waste of time for Americans to make the trans-Atlantic trip merely to have their trousers pressed.

This is the three hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Aubustine Snizzler, the first man to wear a Tuxedo dinner suit. Every since that time it has been impossible to distinguish the waiters from most of the diners in our large hotels.

FOR TRACING.

An excellent way to get the exact shape of leaves or ferns for sketching or tracing for ornamental work is by taking a smoke copy. Butter lightly a sheet of writing paper, and hold over a candle until it is thoroughly blackened, but not burned. Lay the right side of the fern on the paper and press down the entire surface especially the edges, with a pencil or something of the sort; then transfer it to a clean sheet, not letting it move after once being laid on, or it will "smudge"; place another sheet of paper over it carefully and press with the fingers, or a book. A perfect impression will be obtained, which can be traced, or otherwise copied, and those who do not draw sufficiently to outline the leaves or ferns will find this the best way to do.

Say the Kind Word Now.

Oh, my dear friends, you who are letting miserable misunderstandings run on from year to year meaning to clear them up some day; you who are keeping wretched quarrels alive because you cannot quite make up your mind that now is the day to sacrifice your pride and kill them; you who are passing men sullenly upon the street, not speaking to them out of some silly spite and yet knowing that it would fill you with shame and remorse if you heard that one of these men was dead tomorrow morning; you who are letting your neighbor starve till you hear that he is dying of starvation or letting your friend's heart ache for a word of appreciation or sympathy, which you mean to give him some day—if you only could know and see and feel, all of a sudden, that the time is short, how it would break the spell, how you would go instantly and do the thing which you might never have another chance to do!—Phillips Brooks.

OVERHEARD on OLYMPUS by Barbara Boyd

Oenone and Affinities

I OFTEN wonder what is the proper course for a wife to adopt when an affinity looms on the horizon," said Oenone. "Affinities are becoming such a fad nowadays that a woman really ought to give the matter some thought."

"I guess she's likely to give it thought enough," replied Juno, who had troubles of her own along that line with Jove.

"But I mean fore-thought," said Oenone. "If she was ready for the situation, she might prevent the affinity from getting within halting distance."

"Just plain, ordinary thought, either forethought, or hind-thought, won't do much good," replied Juno, sceptically. "When a man's got the affinity germ in his system, it just has to chew him awhile. Nothing'll cure him. It's the sort of thing that works its own cure. The poison it germinates acts after a while as its own antidote."

"At any rate," broke in Clytie, wistfully watching the distant form of Apollo, "it's better to have him leave you for an affinity, than never to have been interested in you at all."

"It's mighty tough," replied Oenone, remembering her sufferings when Paris became so wrapped up in Venus. "I sometimes wonder if Cupid is always as careful as he should be about the virus he puts in his arrows. The effect is so much more lasting in some cases than in others."

"Oh, Cupid has nothing to do with a case of affinity," observed Juno. "That isn't love. That's merely excitement. It's a sort of morbid craving for the abnormal, like the taste for avocado, and caviar, and tobasco, and such things."

"Do you think so?" asked Oenone, brightening. "If I thought he really never cared for Venus or Helen—"

"The very fact that there was a Helen after Venus, and no doubt would have been somebody else after Helen, if he hadn't died, proves it," replied Juno. "That's the way it always goes. It's a germ disease as I said, and it has to run its course until the system gets so full of the poison, it brings a sense of repulsion. Then the patient is on the road to recovery. That's the time he begins to remember his wife and the joys of home. He even thinks fondly of carrying up coal and putting up the clothes line. And if he gets into any kind of trouble, and with an affinity, he's bound to, sooner or later,—his recovery is all the more rapid. He's pretty sure to come crying back to his wife, then."

"That's true," said Oenone. "Paris sent for me, you know, when he got sick."

"That's the way they usually do," agreed Juno, scornfully.

"But I didn't go, you know,—until it was too late," said Oenone, the tears filling her eyes, at the recollection. "I was so mad, I just said to the messenger, 'Let some of his affinities nurse him.' But when I got to thinking of his suffering, I couldn't stand it, so I got a taxi—"

"She began to sob."

"That's the way with us women," soothes Juno. "We take these things too seriously."

"But we can't help it," said Clytie, craning her neck to watch Apollo "We're made that way."

Roland lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, met as usual on Tuesday evening with a fairly good attendance. Vice Chancellor Loughman was in the chair and conducted affairs like an old timer. The Page rank was conferred on one candidate. Next Tuesday evening a class of six is expected to take the Esquire rank. It is hoped a good attendance will be recorded. There is plenty of ice water on tap and fans for those who need them. It is probable that on next Tuesday evening some recognition will be taken of the coming anniversary of Roland lodge. August 28 we will be twenty-five years old and the event should be celebrated in due form. A quarter of a century has seen many changes in Roland lodge, which has grown from an infant in swaddling clothes to the largest Pythian lodge in the county and one of the most prosperous, so why not jollify? Invite the ladies and friends and especially the charter members, a few of whom are still with us.

PRAYER FOR A WAYWARD GIRL BRINGS WEALTH

Chicago, July 26.—David S. Byrne, a Pittsburg evangelist of the Church of God, is in Chicago to establish his identity under the terms of a will that will make him a rich man. The legacy is given him because his prayer, uttered on bended knees in the rear of a Chicago saloon years ago, turned back toward her Baltimore home a girl who had lost her way, and restored her to the loved ones whose entreaties had failed to move her.

Six years ago the evangelist, then named David S. Kidd, who prayed often for the lost souls in the Chicago underworld, stepped into a saloon on South State street, near Harrison street, in search of a directory. The cafe section of the saloon was deserted, and for a young girl who reclined on a couch as if overcome by weariness. He started to go out. "Wait a minute," called the girl. "Let's sit down and have a drink." "We'll sit down," said Kidd, "but we won't drink. Instead I want to read you a story—the story of the prodigal son, who was lost and found again who was dead and became alive." He opened a small Testament and began to read the Parables. The girl listened. A far-away look crept into her eyes. Then he dropped on his knees and uttered a prayer, asking that she turn back to the life she knew before she went out into the world.

Lucy Bryne died a few years after her return to Baltimore, but the evangelist continued to hear from the father, who asked the evangelist to change his name to David S. K. Bryne. A few weeks ago he learned that the old man was dead. Then he was informed that a large legacy had been left him out of the Bryne estate and that he was to be one of the executors of the will. He was asked to prove his identity at once. "The money left to Bryne comes as part of the fortune that the girl would have inherited had she lived," said a friend of the evangelist.

COUNTRY CLUB GROUND.
What is the status of the Licking Country club? Who really owns the permanent encampment grounds where the club is located? Why did the Board of Trade lease the ground to the Country club? What right has the public on these grounds? What would happen if the Board of Trade should transfer the deed to the property to the City and County?

These are some of the questions that are being asked about town and a recent announcement that an effort would be made to have the ground formally transferred to the City and County authorities, served to bring the proposition before the people of the entire City and County. About twenty-five years ago a small public subscription was raised, and to this public funds were added, for the purchase of one hundred, twenty-three acres, later known as the permanent Encampment Grounds. This ground was deeded to the State of Ohio for use as a camping ground for the Ohio troops but some years later the Ohio militiamen, tired of coming to the same place year after year, sought other locations for camping purposes, and the ground passed into disuse. It was then that the Newark Board of Trade took advantage of the clause in the contract, which provided that in case the State should cease to use the ground for encampment purposes it was to be returned to the Newark Board of Trade, and the Legislature enacted the law, authorizing the transfer of the property to this commercial organization. If the Board of Trade had not gone after the Legislature, the ground would still be in possession of the state.

At that time the ground was in an unsightly condition and the Board of Trade was without funds to improve it. A portion of the ground was farmed for awhile, but there seemed to be no possibility of raising a fund sufficient to make the place into an attractive park, such as it should be. It was then some of the men of the city conceived the idea of forming a Country club, using their personal funds in beautifying the grounds. A membership meeting of the Board of Trade was called, and an entire evening was taken in discussing the proposition. With practically no opposition the Board entered into contract with the new Country club, whereby a twenty year lease was granted, the Club to pay $650 per annum as rental for the grounds, the Board of Trade pledging itself to expend the entire amount of proceeds from rental upon permanent improvements on the property. The lease further provided that in case the Board of Trade desired possession of the property for any purpose it could be obtained at any time, upon one year's notice, by reimbursing the Country club for the permanent improvements it had made. The Club under this lease took possession about three years ago, and erected a $12,000 Club house. The Club laid out a golf course and considerable money was expended in beautifying the grounds, building roads, repairing fencing and preserving the trees. It should be noted that a clause in the lease provides that the public shall have free access to the grounds at any time, though of course it is not expected that the public shall have free access to the club house proper.

Through the arrangement made by the Board of Trade the beautiful encampment ground is being properly cared for and it is to all intents and purposes a public park. The Board of Trade can obtain possession at any time, by serving notice on the Country club and by paying the Club the value of the Club house.

There is a feeling among some people that the Country club consists of Newark's "four hundred," but a glance over the list of members shows that people from many walks of life are members of the organization and an examination of the By-laws, shows that there are no restrictions to membership that are really serious. Many people have, upon many occasions, expressed the hope that the Club grounds would at some time become either a city, county, state, or national park, and if a movement is started to make this property into a big public park, with the assurance of success, the Board of Trade will doubtless gladly surrender its interest in the matter. The Board of Trade recognizes the fact that it holds the property as a trustee for the people. They are not deriving a cent of revenue from the property, but made the contract with the Country club with the sole purpose of preserving the ground and keeping it in proper order up to the time when the public could take it and properly care for it.

If the grounds should be deeded over to the city or county now, what would happen? The answer may be seen in the condition of the Moundbuilders' Park—the fair ground. Neither the city nor the county at present is in position to take care of and improve the encampment ground but the time will come when it will be a beautiful public park cared for by public funds. That time is not here but the public has the benefit of this delightful spot at the Country club's expense and the public is free to enter the grounds at any time. Let's not get excited about the matter. Nobody is trying to steal this ground. It is being well cared for, is the pride of every citizen and when it is the right thing to do the Board of Trade may be depended upon to turn the deed over, but it is to be hoped that the title may remain where it now lies until a way is pointed out to make the place into a fine park, the permanency of which is assured.

ERUPTION ON ANKLE GREAT SUFFERING

Many Nights Did Not Sleep. Burned All the Time. Wore Bandage Night and Day. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Well.

Kingsville, Mo.—"My trouble began eighteen years ago. Nearly half of the time there were running sores around my ankle; sometimes it would be two years at a time before they were healed. There were many nights I did not sleep because of the great suffering. The sores were deep running ones and so sore that I could not bear for anything to touch them. They would burn all the time and sting like a lot of bees were confined around my ankle. I could not bear to scratch it, it was always so sensitive to touch. I could not let my clothes touch the sores. I used to wear a white cloth to hold it in shape. This I wore night and day.

"I tried many remedies for most of the eighteen years with no effect. Last summer when my ankle had been sore for over a year and much worse than ever before I sent for some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It would both and burn, besides a great hurting that I think tongue could never explain. The very first time I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment I gained relief, they relieved the pain right then. It was three months from the time I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment until the sores were entirely healed. I have not been troubled since." (Signed) Mrs. Charles E. Brooke, Oct. 22, 1912.
Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 25c. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."—Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

In addition thereto for sinking fund and interest purposes as may be necessary to provide for any indebtedness heretofore incurred or any indebtedness that may hereafter be incurred by a vote of the people.

Thus the taxpayer will see that he has the same absolute ten mill limitation for current expenses except as provided in section 5649-4 and section 5649-5 and these same exceptions are in the Smith law. Section 5649-3 was repealed; this was the section of the Smith law that based all future taxes on the levy of 1910 and this internal feature only was repealed because the Supreme court said it was unconstitutional.

After this decision Governor Cox, in a special message to the legislature, knowing the high esteem in which the Smith law was held by the people of Ohio, asked that immediate action be taken to remedy this defect to the end that every essential limitation of the Smith law might be preserved. The legislature acted promptly and thus as Timothy S. Hogan, our able attorney general said, "the Smith law was saved and made workable" not killed as alleged by our benevolent friends of the Equity Association. Would it not well for the people to reflect on the final results to the taxpayers of Ohio, if this law should fall of ratification by the people in case of a referendum before signing this petition. The defeat of this measure would not leave us with the Smith law as passed by the Seventy-ninth General Assembly, but the wrecked Smith law as left after the recent Supreme court decision. Would not such a condition bring chaos to our rich taxpayers as well as poor; for the real estate of other is on the duplicate at its full value in money, but how about the rate in this case?

Now as to the Warner taxation measure, this law was enacted to complete our reform taxation system begun by the law creating the State Taxation Commission, and it, like the Workmen's Compensation act needs no defense, for under the operation of this law, the public utilities of the state are assessed over four times the valuation placed on them in 1910 and every county in Ohio has been greatly benefited by this increased duplicate. It can be reasonably asserted that ninety per cent of the people of Ohio would vote against a repeal of this wise law; the question that now confronts us is will we complete the system by extending it to the counties thus assuring equality of values in the entire state or shall we file a referendum petition on this measure as the best of a bunch of big tax dodgers, thereby prostituting the referendum to purposes for which it was never intended by the people to be used.

THE BEST TOILET PREPARATIONS

The up-to-date woman recognizes that the most important adjunct to good looks is the use of good toilet preparations. The utmost care should be exercised in selecting them, however. Many women who are scrupulously particular about medicines will buy toilet articles from an agent who comes to their door, without thought of the quality and purity. Don't take chances on ruining your skin but go to a reliable druggist.

The City Drug Store carries the most complete line of the best toilet preparations to be had and when this store recommends something to you, you know it is safe to use. They specially recommend the Nylal face cream as a nourishing skin tonic, being healing and antiseptic. Drop in and look over the immense line of various toilet articles carried by this firm. They will be glad to demonstrate to you and you can find just the things you need most.

MARKET PEOPLE INSTALL SCALES; SELL BY WEIGHT

Newark people who have been making purchases on the local market found considerable confusion Saturday morning when some of the vendors installed scales and lived up faithfully to the new law requiring sale of vegetables, etc., by weight. Some of the market people did not care to take a chance on continuing the old method of selling and adopted the scale of weights fixed by law.

If this law is sustained and the sale of food stuffs by weight becomes general, it is probable that purchasers will like it better than the old method. But it will require some time for the buyers to become familiar with the new order of things.

Saturday morning's market was pronounced a splendid one by the expert buyers. There was an abundance of everything seasonable and as a rule prices were reasonable.

Blackberries, a fruit in which the housewife is greatly interested right now, were plentiful and sold at 10 cents per quart or $3 per bushel. Newark people who have gone on berry picking expeditions state that the bushes are heavily laden with a fine quality of fruit. With the price remaining at 10 cents, berry-picking is a highly profitable occupation for country boys and girls who have berry patches at their disposal.

els, there really are none except in Sonora, except where there is an organized government. Elsewhere there are bandits.

The ambassador was asked about Coahuila where Governor Carranza is in charge of the Constitutional cause.

"There are bandits in Coahuila, too," he answered. "I don't mean to say that Carranza is a bandit but in order to keep his men together, he has to allow them to loot until they become bandits."

Mr. Wilson suggested that hardly anyone in Washington really understood the Mexican situation and the characteristics of Latin peoples.

"Some of the proposals I have heard," he remarked, "sound like the dribblings of mere children. For instance, the proposal to have foreign powers from Central and South America act with us in mediating the trouble in Mexico. Why, that would mean an overthrow of the principles of the Monroe Doctrine and the Mexicans would resent that interference. I know this proposal was once made by John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union. Mr. Barrett and I are personal friends and I have great respect for him but I don't think much of that suggestion."

The ambassador met Mrs. Henry Lane Wilson and his two sons who had preceded him here. Asked just how soon he would finish his conferences he said: "I'll certainly hurry them," and then added with a laugh, "I understand from the newspapers that my presence in Washington is costing Mr. Bryan $2,000 a day by losing his lecture engagements. Well, I must be an expensive visitor."

After he had breakfasted Mr. Wilson hurried to the State department where Secretary Bryan was waiting. President Wilson had gone off to play golf and it could not be determined if he was to see the ambassador today or tomorrow.

At the end of a half hour's conference with the ambassador, Secretary Bryan, saying the talk would be continued at 2 o'clock this afternoon, hurried to the capital to meet the foreign relations committee. He said he would only discuss the Nicaraguan treaty there.

Secretary Bryan would make no announcement of his conference with the ambassador further than to say that Mr. Wilson had made a preliminary report. Mr. Bryan was asked about the statement that Delaware had been furnished with a copy of the state department code, but beyond saying he never had announced that Delvalle was an agent of the state department he refused to discuss the question.

Later it was learned definitely that Ambassador Wilson will not confer with President Wilson until Monday. He will spend the rest of the day conferring with Mr. Bryan.

Secretary Bryan told the foreign relations committee today the administration would make no immediate change in enforcing the neutrality law against shipments of arms to Mexico. This indicates that President Wilson will continue to refuse to issue export permits to both the Huerta and Constitutional factions.

Delvalle also had a conference with Secretary Bryan at which it was understood he submitted something in the nature of a report or a recommendation based upon his observations in Mexico. Whether it related to Ambassador Wilson was not established. Both he and Mr. Bryan declined to discuss it. It became known today that Delvalle came to Washington from Mexico on the same train and the same ship with Ambassador Wilson as a result of its conference with Secretary Bryan the foreign relations committee will call upon Ambassador Wilson probably early next week for an explanation of Mexican conditions.

"I was impressed," said Ambassador Wilson later, "with the friendliness of Secretary Bryan and his breadth of view. Our interview was very pleasant and Mr. Bryan impressed me as not having reached any determination of the situation, but desirous to know the facts. The ambassador declared at Mr. Bryan's request he had declined today a resume of the situation. Mr. Wilson said he would ask the president to permit him to speak freely about the situation."

CRISS BROTHERS PURCHASE MODERN AUTO AMBULANCE

Criss Brothers, undertakers have placed an order with the Riddle Coach and Hearse company of Ravenna for a modern motor ambulance. The vehicle will be installed for use here as soon as the builders are able to complete the car.

This ambulance is the last word in motor-ambulance construction. The chassis of the White Automobile company is used for the foundation of the car, while the Riddle people build and equip the bed. The engine is of fifty horse power and is electrically equipped throughout, a feature being the storage battery by which the machine can be run for a mile in case the gasoline motor should fail.

News From Over the State

Drink Proves Undoing.

Zanesville, July 26.—When W. J. Taylor, former treasurer of Morgan county was given a suspended sentence to the penitentiary two months ago after he pleaded guilty to embezzling Morgan county funds at McConnelsville, one of the conditions was that he should abstain from drink. Taylor has continued drinking, it is said. Yesterday Parole Officer Raley of the penitentiary went to McConnelsville and secured Taylor, who now will have to serve his sentence.

Posses Hunt Arsonist.

Kent, July 26.—Posses with bloodhounds are hunting for a man, believed to be a foreigner, who yesterday broke into the beautiful homes of James, Jr., and Ned Miller and set fire to them. Both of these houses were robbed a month ago and the interiors were badly damaged by vandals. A year ago a large barn on the farm of James Miller, sr., father of today's victims, was destroyed by an incendiary fire.

Se Error Costs $3500.

Ironton, July 26.—Because in publishing an ordinance fixing the rates of wharfage in this city made a mistake of three cents, Judge Edward E. Corn holds that the city cannot collect wharfage to the amount of $3500 alleged to be due to the city from Captain William Bay, owner of the Ironton wharfbarge and a fleet of boats. The case will be carried to the higher courts.

BOYS OF CO. G WILL BREAK CAMP SUNDAY MORNING

(By George G. Whitehead.)

Camp Perry, July 26.—Having concluded the chief features of a busy week under army regulations, company G will indulge in dress parade tonight and break camp Sunday morning. Capt. Priest and his men expect to reach Newark over the Pennsylvania line at 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

Next year it is probable that the Fourth Regiment will camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana, or at Camp Sharpe near Delaware. Immediately following camp breaking, Sunday, the Fourth will be followed by the Second Regiment, headquarters at Lima, and the corps of army engineers.

Within the next few weeks Newark people will have the privilege of seeing their boys in action. At dress parade last evening a motion picture photographer was on the job and the reels will be shown in the various Ohio cities where National Guard companies are located.

One of the prettiest features of the week was the color escort Thursday evening. Col. B. L. Fargar chose Capt. Samson's Delaware soldiers for honor duty, and the Fourth Regiment band, minus the service of Major Nichols as drum major, played as usual on such occasions.

The companies marched yesterday, one battalion at a time. Company G appeared in federal pay to march with Company E of Maryland, F of Circleville and H of Chillicothe. Each regular received $4 and the other half of the pay will be forthcoming in August, at the home army.

At target practice yesterday Capt. Priest made some fine scores. On the 300-yard range he performed well, as did Sergeant Roasley and a number of others. Major Knauss of the medical department, c. Joyed the officers' test ride again today.

Yesterday Lieut. DePrize put up a warm battle when informed by the boys that he was in for a compulsory shaving. He took the stunt in the humor and expressed gratitude for a saving of 10 cents. Friday the lieutenant was commander of the guard. He has made a number of friends among the guardsmen during the camp.

Capt. Priest was visited yesterday

Hit By Auto; May Die.

Cleveland, July 26.—Mrs. Mary Conklin, aged 55, was struck and probably fatally injured yesterday when hit by an automobile in East Cleveland, which speeded away before the driver's name could be learned. Mrs. Gail Fuller and Mrs. A. Seabrook, who were crossing the street with Mrs. Conklin, received slight injuries.

Makes Funeral Plans; Dies.

Zanesville, July 26.—Mrs. Hazel White, aged 28, of Cambridge died in a local hospital. She made all her funeral arrangements yesterday before she died. She chose her pallbearers, the hymns to be sung and directed that she be buried in her wedding dress.

Hold Lads For Auto Theft.

Akron, July 26.—Charles Jones, aged 20, and Roland Wilson, aged 17 of Cleveland, were arrested here yesterday on the charge of having stolen an automobile belonging to Robert C. Rice of Lakewood, a suburb of Cleveland. The boys were driving the machine in Akron when arrested.

Crazed by Heat Is Suicidal.

Wilmington, July 26.—Peter Feener, a farmer, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head with a small rifle. Before ending his life he is said to have tried to take money found lying on the counter of a New Antioch store. He suffered a heat stroke recently and since then had been despondent.

by Ralph Priest of Newark and others from the Licking capital are expected this evening.

The camp was in an expectant mood today with the announcement that Governor Cox and mother would attend dress parade in the evening. Other notable visitors are expected. The camp stunts will reach a climax on the final evening and some hilarious times are anticipated. Photographers were busy today getting in their final shots, and one of the best pictures was that of the Fourth regiment officers.

When the chilly breezes from Lake Erie sent over camp last night the boys roached for more blankets, but they had to be content with the single bit of covering provided when they left home. It was the coldest night of the week.

The regimental rifle team will be formed soon from men competing here this week. Practice on the 1,000-yard range was one of today's features. The advance guard of the international rifle artists arrived today. The Argentine Republic entrants sent their baggage in advance from New York.

Sheds will be built for the participants, and when the big match is over in September the sheds will be used as cavalry headquarters. Now that the regimental camps are about over and eyes are turned toward the rifle range and the fact that it is one of the most interesting features of any camp period makes certain its success when teams from many nations compete.

To discipline this year has been strict and satisfactory. No accidents or mentioning have occurred and we have been no unpleasant features to mar the encampment.

MR. SMITH IS SPRY AT THE AGE OF 83 YEARS.

(Mansfield News.)
Thomas R. Smith, of Newark, a former well known resident of Mansfield and a cousin of E. C. Ford, the mail carrier, is spending the day in Mansfield. There are many people by the name of Smith in this world but the gentleman referred to seems to be a Smith extraordinary. From 1873 to 1878 Mr. Smith conducted a grocery on North Park street where the present grocery is located, having bought out W. F. Tyler. For forty years of his life Mr. Smith lived on a farm on what is known as the upper Lucas road adjacent to Mansfield. For a period of thirty-three years the former Mansfield man was in the United States railway mail service, as clerk. Mr. Smith is now 83 years of age but he is spry than some young men and does not look a day older than 65 years.
